Summer 2017

Welcome to OLLI at LSU

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at LSU is one of a network of 120 university-affiliated lifelong learning programs supported by The Bernard Osher Foundation. The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, or OLLI, offers non-credit educational programs specifically developed for adults who are ages 50 and older; university connection and university support; robust volunteer leadership and sound organizational structure; and a diverse repertoire of intellectually stimulating courses.

We invite anyone who is interested to become an OLLI at LSU member. Membership entitles you to register in as many courses, field trips, or special events as you like. Come learn with us!

Our mission is to foster lifelong learning and individual growth for learners ages 50 and over by creating intellectually stimulating learning opportunities that enrich lives.

MEMBERSHIP

OLLI at LSU is open to anyone who meets its two requirements:

1. is 50 years old and older; and
2. enjoys learning!

The annual membership year is from July 1 to June 30. The membership fee is $50. The fee covers the entire membership year, so join now to take advantage of this year's offerings. Membership entitles you to a wide range of benefits, including registering in as many noncredit OLLI courses as you like by paying course fees and any additional book or supply fees. An OLLI member may attend activities offered by any of the four chapters within OLLI at LSU: Cajun Prairie Chapter, Felicianas Chapter, or Lagniappe Chapter. See the inside back cover for guidelines on paying your membership fee.

OLLI MEMBERSHIP

Thanks to the fantastic help of so many dedicated OLLI members, OLLI at LSU has over 1100 members. Pass the word. Put some sparkle in a friend's eye. Learning in OLLI courses is fun!

Call 225-578-6763 to enroll or give the gift of OLLI to a friend. OLLI at LSU is one of 120 OLLIs located on university campuses in nearly 379 cities and towns throughout the US, together comprising more than 154,000 members.

Memory Training

Learn the tools and techniques to improve your memory skills. While the stage is set with a descriptive understanding of the physiology of the brain and mental processes, the focus is to explore prescriptive tips, tools, and techniques to practice each week. Memory training exercises many facets of the mind to improve cognition, recall, storage, flexibility, and mental agility. This course is for anyone who wants to maintain an agile and vigorous mind.

Time & Dates: 1:30 p.m.–3:30 p.m., Tues., Jul. 11, 18, 25, Aug. 1

Course Code: OFMEMT.(3)

Course Fee: $35 (Early Bird Fee $30)

Instructor: Ralph Schomburg

Coordinator: Ralph Schomburg, 281-682-2802

Philosophy & Religion

Investigate one of the most important questions in the history of Western thought: What has Athens to do with Jerusalem? In other words, what is the relationship between faith and philosophy? Revelation and reason? Belief and critical inquiry? Examine how leaders in the Jewish, Christian, and Muslim traditions have understood the connections, conflict, and correlation between classical Greek thought and philosophy and their own religious tradition and scriptural heritage. Our lively class discussions are guided by selected writings from philosophers like Plato, Aristotle, and the Stoics, alongside a variety of influential thinkers in the Abrahamic traditions, such as Augustine of Hippo, Maimonides, and Avicenna. Come and explore the generative inquiry and critical tension of faith seeking understanding.

Time & Dates: 1:30 p.m.–3:30 p.m., Wed., Jul. 12, 19, 26, Aug. 2

Course Code: OFPHR.(1)

Course Fee: $35 (Early Bird Fee $30)

Instructor: Peter Kang

Coordinator: Olivia Pass, 225-302-3524

A Walk in the Park

Join us as we take a walk in the park on the newly completed one-mile flat walking trail at the West Feliciana Parish Sports Park. Learn proper stretching techniques along the way. As our fitness levels increase, we may even attempt part of The Beast Trail that isn't flat. More detailed information will be sent after registration. Hope to see you out at the park!

Time & Dates: 8:00 a.m.–10:00 a.m., Mon., Jul. 10, 17, 24, 31

Course Code: OFWPARK.(1)

Supplies: Bring an exercise mat or large beach towel, for stretching and relaxation at the end of each class; and water for hydration.

Course Fee: $25 (Early Bird Fee $20)

Instructor: Pat Heurtin

Coordinator: TBD

Wine Appreciation

Come join us for a unique wine tasting and food pairing experience at the new Audubon Market in St. Francisville. Representatives from local wineries and distributors explain the fine qualities of their various wines and introduce new flavors. Suggestions and samples of food and dessert pairings will be enjoyed by all.

Time & Dates: 6:30 p.m.–8:00 p.m., Fri., Jul. 14, 21, 28, Aug. 4

Facebook as Your Source for News & Information

As a first generation Facebook and Twitter user, I know social media can be a scary place. Avoid that fear by learning how to figure out what is and is not fake news, what links and articles are safe to click, what Facebook pages are reliable sources of information, and how to choose what kind of articles and information appear in your Facebook feed. Social media is a powerful tool and source of news, and this course helps you use that to your advantage.

Time & Dates: 2:00 p.m.–4:00 p.m., Tues., Jul. 11, 18, 25, Aug. 1

Course Code: OLFSNI.(1)

Course Fee: $30 (Early Bird Fee: $25)

Flicks & Food: Remembering World War I

With this year marking the 100th anniversary of U.S. entry into World War I, this summer's program features two films set during the war. The Fighting 69th, about the famous Irish-American regiment, with stars James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, features a mix of actual and fictional persons and events, taking recruits from boot camp to battle at the front line. Paths of Glory is an early work of director Stanley Kubrick. Starring Kirk Douglas as a commanding officer who faces court martial after refusing to continue a suicidal attack, the film explores the nature and contradictions of war, power, and corruption. Discussion will touch on the aesthetics of the films as well as their historical context and views of the War. Enjoy a three-course dinner at Juban's as we watch and discuss these classic war movies.

Note: Course fee includes the two meals.

Time & Dates: 6:30 p.m.–9:00 p.m., Mon., Jul. 24, 31

Course Code: OLFLICK.(20)

Course Fee: $85 (Early Bird Fee: $80)

Instructor: Donald Beale

Heroes of the Environment

Environmental alteration has been an inevitable outcome of human actions from the beginning of time. In more recent times, our actions on the planet have led to serious damage to our environment. Learn about some of the heroes of the environment—the men and women who have made a significant contribution to protecting the environment. Their insights, determination, and dedication led to conservation, preservation, design, legal action, and public safety warnings that continue to have an impact today. Aldo Leopold, Gifford Pinchot, Rachel Carson, Caroline Dorman, and Lady Bird Johnson are among the remarkable activists who are highlighted, through slides and videos, to help you understand the environment, both ecological and political, in which they worked.

Time & Dates: 1:45 p.m.–3:45 p.m., Wed., Jul. 12, 19, 26, Aug. 2

Line Dancing

Come have a great time showing off all your best dance moves! Line dancing is a line of dancers executing a sequence of steps at the same time. It has a strong country music base, but has crossed into music styles of disco, pop, Cajun, and Latin. In line dancing, the balance of male and female partners doesn't matter, so sign up for this course either as a single or as a couple. The dances range from the "Freeze" to "Boot Scootin' Boogie." Put your dancing shoes on and come join in the fun.

Musical Impressionism

Debussy and Ravel were together the main practitioners of musical impressionism, yet their individual styles were dissimilar. Discuss musical impressionism in general, and as it relates specifically to these composers, focusing in on the distance that separates them. The course is an outgrowth of the conversations that the two professors have had over the years debating their favorite impressionist composer. Works to be covered include Images, by Debussy, and Miroirs, Ma Mère l'Oye, and Daphnis et Chloé by Ravel.

Our French Acadian Past

Have you pondered the origin of the word Cajun? Do you know the significance of the term Le Grand Derangement, or how and why eighteenth-century Acadia had such a profound impact on our Louisiana heritage? Come trace the path of our French ancestors, from la France to l'Acadie to la Nouvelle Orleans, and beyond. Through various resources and videos, find answers to where, when, and why Cajuns make up a large part of southern Louisiana.

Practicing Listening

Hey, let's practice really listening! There is a big difference between conversation and really listening. In conversation, we share ideas and feelings, we interject, we comment, and we judge. To listen, we just focus on the other person with the intent of understanding what the he or she is saying without sticking in our own experiences. The challenge is to keep our mouths shut and work on understanding. The joy of being really listened to is a precious gift that we all want but rarely get. Practice your new skills by listening to your classmates, and having fun trying to not interject experiences, advice or wisdom, but simply to understand. What a wonderful gift to give to others—the gift of really listening! By the way, anyone who would like to be just listened to without doing the listening part would be most welcome too!

The Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola

The Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius are a set of meditations, contemplations, and prayers that all Jesuit priests and brothers go through just twice in their lives, at the beginning and the end of their formation. This is an abbreviated version, much like the exercises offered at the Jesuit-preached retreat locations around the world, and locally at Our Lady of the Oaks in Grand Coteau, and Manresa in Convent. Each class includes a lecture with dialogue and clarification on how to progress through the rest of the week in meditating, discerning, and reflecting on the material. Participants are expected to pray/meditate on the material provided once a day, for one hour, every day.

Time & Dates: 11:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m., Thurs., Jul. 13, 20, 27, Aug. 3

The Tower of London & Notables Who Perished There

Did you know a warrior duke born of French and Viking nobility built the Tower of London? That is, after slaying his cousin, Harold Godwinson, at the Battle of Hastings in 1066. Thus began the French reign over Britain, and subsequently, construction of the famous White Tower. It originated as a strong fortress where monarchs lived, made merry, plotted, and ruled, but over the centuries it became a place of languishing, torture, and death for the guilty and oft-times the innocent. Through discussion, historical references, and video clips from documentaries and films, learn the history of this ominous, loathsome place, and the notables who either vanished within or took their very last steps through the dreaded Traitors' Gate.

Instructor Biographies

Smiley Anders is a columnist with The Advocate who has been writing a daily items column since 1979. Holding an M.A. in journalism from LSU, he is a five-time winner of the Herb Caen Award from the National Society of Newspaper Columnists and is a member of the Hall of Fame of LSU's Manship School of Mass Communication.

Donald Beale has an MALA from LSU in general humanities with an emphasis on film studies. He has done additional graduate coursework in English, with a concentration in American literature and film. He has taught composition and technical writing for the LSU English department and a course on Russian cinema for the Department of Foreign Languages & Literatures. He is Director, Distance Learning Programs, at LSU Continuing Education.

Peter Callery is a Jesuit with a BA in philosophy and an MDiv in theology. He taught in high schools for 36 years. He is currently a retreat director at Manresa House of Retreats in Convent, Louisiana. He has long had an interest in how the stories that we experience affect our own life stories.

Phil Chenevert was born in New Orleans, but he has lived in Baton Rouge for 38 years. He has an MA in counseling from University of Southern Mississippi. He is 76, retired, and spends all of his time doing fun stuff like recording books for LibriVox, teaching and taking OLLI and Cajun Clickers classes, playing characters on stage, and, of course, eating gumbo. Phil does not play the tuba.

Claire Fontenot has been a master gardener for more than 12 years. She presently coordinates the volunteers at BREC Independence Park Botanical Garden where she has developed an American Daylily Society display garden, the Louisiana Iris and Ginger displays. She continues to provide information about home gardening and plants that do well in Louisiana.

Charles Fryling, Jr. (Charlie) received his MS in Landscape Architecture from Harvard University. He currently teaches LSU Landscape Architecture courses on topics such as plant materials, regional planning, ecology, and the American landscape, using his own photographs extensively to illustrate his lectures. As an environmental activist, he has been involved in the preservation, conservation, restoration and social justice for the past 50 years. Known by many of our elected officials and governmental agencies for his concern about the protection of the Atchafalaya Basin, he has been a constant proponent for keeping it "wet and wild."

Jerisse Grantham owns the Jeffie Jean Dance Studio, which her mother started more than 73 years ago. Grantham teaches all forms of dance at the studio, and at public and private schools in the Baton Rouge area. She is a 13-year adjunct faculty member of Tulane University in the theater and dance department. She is also certified to teach by Dance Masters of America. She earned her BS from LSU, and has enjoyed the art of teaching and sharing the passion of dance for more than 30 years.

Pat Heurtin holds an MEd + 30 hours. She is a retired teacher, having taught and coached health, physical education, and English at the high school level for 23 years and educational teaching methods at the university level for 2 years. Following her teaching retirement, she served as the physical director for the Lake Charles YMCA for 7 years. Mrs. Heurtin presently serves on the West Feliciana Sports Park Committee as well as being USAPA Pickleball Ambassador for West Feliciana Parish.

John Howe is retired from the LSU School of Medicine, where he was director of the LSU Family Practice Residency Program and family medicine department head for 23 years. He graduated from Tulane Medical School. He has studied tai chi for ten years under John Langlois.

He enjoys introducing others to this ancient Chinese practice of movement meditation, which has proven health benefits.

Peter Kang received his PhD in Philosophical Theology from the University of Virginia and an MDiv from Bexley-Seabury Seminary. He currently serves as the Associate Rector of Grace Episcopal Church in St. Francisville and a volunteer at the Louisiana State Penitentiary.

Owen Kemp has been a yoga instructor for several years, and received her yoga training through the Living Yoga program at the Barsana Dham Ashram in Austin, Texas. She attended training sessions at the Omega Institute in Rhinebeck, New York and various venues around the country. Her yoga style is best described as flow.

Suzanne Lavergne is an LSU alum who did graduate work in Latin American Studies and studied for a position in the USIS, a precursor to the CIA. Suzanne served as the Director of Rural Health for the State of Louisiana and retired in 2002. Having grown up in many parts of the world, mostly in places where Americans were in grave danger, with a father who was an agent in the OSS (later the USAID and finally the CIA), she has also done extensive research on this period in US History and can provide interesting and personal stories about this. As part of the first successful mountain climbing expedition to the top of Mt. Everest, she knew the climbers that were actually planting radio equipment on the mountain to spy on the Chinese!

Linda Lightfoot, BA in journalism and political science, University of Mississippi, is retired from The Advocate, where she worked for 42 years, and the last fifteen as executive editor.

Roberta Loflin obtained a BA in art history and theory from George Washington University, studied communication design at Northern Virginia Community College, and color theory, watercolor and drawing at the Art League School in Alexandria, Va. Since moving to Baton Rouge, she has had the opportunity to teach watercolor through the Art Guild of Louisiana, OLLI at LSU, LSU Leisure Courses, the Congregation of St. Joseph, and other venues.

Meagan McClure is originally from Alexandria, Louisiana. She is an LSU alumna with a BA in literature and fiction, and also holds an MA in literature and research from Northwestern State University. Her major areas of focus are pop culture, dystopian literature, women's literature, Victorian literature, and Shakespeare.

Denise Magnat has a BA in education from the University of Algiers, North Africa. She taught French as a foreign language to all age groups for 37 years in Africa, Europe, the South Pacific, and the USA. She has taught for 11 years with the OLLI at LSU program.

Ellen McDowell passionately helps the non-tech savvy to feel more confident with technology and social media. She founded Ellen McDowell-Your Social Butterfly five years ago, and has taught for OLLI and Continuing Education at LSU.

Alison McFarland is an associate professor of musicology at LSU, and received her PhD from University of California, Santa Barbara, in 1999. McFarland won a Fulbright Fellowship to Rome and several other research grants in Italy and England. Her work has been published in national and international journals.

Mark McFarland is associate professor of music theory at Georgia State University. He has published in national and international journals on the music of Debussy and Stravinsky.

Daphne Olivier is a food passionista, farm girl wanna-be, and registered, yet unconventional, dietitian. She graduated from the University of Louisiana then completed her dietetic internship through the VA system in Tampa, Florida. She is the founder of My Food Coach, her private nutrition practice where she works with people with metabolic disorders including insulin resistance, metabolic syndrome, prediabetes, types 1 and 2 diabetes, and polycystic ovarian syndrome. In her practice she is devoted to providing education, empowerment, and strategies needed to facilitate change to nourish the body and support a healthy lifestyle.

Darlene Reaves holds a MAST (MAsters of Science Teaching) degree. She taught science for 31 years and is now retired. She taught geology, environmental science, and wildlife biology at the New Orleans

Center for Science and Math, and physical science at West Feliciana Parish High School. Darlene has taught OLLI courses on numerous topics, including birds, fossils, and geology. She has also taught courses based on EdX content, including The Science of Happiness, Making Sense of Climate Science Denial, and Chinese Thought.

Patt Roberson earned a PhD in mass communication from University of Southern Mississippi. She is a retired journalism professor, former business manager of The Southern Review, active newspaper reporter and photographer, ad rep for the Baton Rouge Ballet Theatre, and avid recycler. She grew up in the Panama Canal Zone and lives in a geodesic dome in Baker.

Ralph Schomburg obtained a BS in mathematics and an MBA in finance from the University of Houston in 1968 and 1978, respectively. He started working at NASA Manned Spacecraft Center in 1967 as a Cooperative Education Student Trainee and retired from civil service in 2003 as the Assistant CFO of NASA JSC. He has been the recipient of many NASA awards, was a training instructor in the National Management Association, and a part-time staff instructor at San Jacinto College where he conducted management seminars on topics ranging from strategic planning to memory training.

Genedi Shamburger is a native of Baton Rouge and former teacher of French and ESL. She holds an MEd degree from LSU, and BA degrees in French and English/Creating Writing from the Univ. of Missouri/Kansas City. She has also studied in France and Belgium. Genedi has a background in painting and drawing, calligraphy, business and creative writing, office management, and is an avid history enthusiast.

Steve Shamburger graduated from the Art Institute of Houston in 1984. Since then, he has created artwork for such clients as Coca-Cola and Turner Entertainment Television, and for Sports Illustrated Kids and Time for Kids magazines. Having studied with such notable instructors as Daniel Greene, John Howard Sanden, Michael Del Priore, and Gregory Manchess, Steve is also an accomplished portrait and caricature artist. He lives and works from his home-based studio in Baton Rouge.

Emily Toth reads and writes about women's lives. Her eleven published books include biographies of Kate Chopin and Grace Metalious, and advice for academic women. Her "Ms. Mentor" academic advice column appears monthly on the Chronicle of Higher Education website. She has a PhD from Johns Hopkins and taught for many years in the LSU English Department. She also writes about food, cats, and women's humor in "Nothing But the Toth," her column in the online magazine talkingwriting.com.

Francis Vanderwall is professor emeritus of theology at Our Lady of the Lake College, and teaches for the RSI program for the Catholic Diocese of Baton Rouge. He is a spiritual director and pastoral counselor who leads retreats at the Jesuit Retreat House in Grand Coteau and elsewhere. The author of five books on prayer, spirituality, and psychology, he belonged to the Jesuit order for almost 30 years.

Registration Information

CANCELLATION POLICY

Courses with low enrollment may be cancelled before the course begins. If you are interested in a course, it is very important that you register as early as possible. LSU reserves the right to cancel or make changes in courses under these conditions.

REFUND POLICY

If your plans change, please let us know five business days prior to the course start date and we will begin the refund process. If you attend the first meeting of the course and decide you would like to discontinue the course, an OLLI credit for the full amount will be given if you send a written request that is received in the OLLI at LSU office before the second course meeting. If you wish to transfer into another course, please call the OLLI at LSU office at 225-578-6763. If a course is cancelled by LSU, you will receive a full refund for the course.

If you paid for a course that is cancelled using a credit card, a full refund can be credited to your credit card account within five working days if you request us to do so. If you paid using a check, a full refund can take up to 8 weeks to receive. (LSU's policy on a check refund requires a 30-day delay to ensure the check has been deposited by the bank. At that point your name will be submitted as an applicant for a University ID number as the University no longer uses social security numbers for auditing purposes. Once your ID number is received by the Continuing Education office, the refund request will be processed.)
